

Please keep cell phone use off of airplanes. A full airplane is uncomfortable enough for a variety of reasons for a significant number of passengers. Imagine having to listen to someone talk on the phone for 3 hours while you are trying to read, work on a laptop or rest. Many cell phone users are inconsiderate of the people in their vicinity. In addition:

- There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments.
- Cell phone use would enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively.
- The NPRM would leave it up to flight attendants to police the use of cell phones onboard the aircraft compromising our ability to maintain a safe, secure cabin environment and to conduct emergency evacuations.
- It would make an already tense cabin environment even more stressful.

Thanks for your consideration,
Wally Goelzer